VALENTINE'S PATENT REVERSING CENTRIFUGAL

WATER-WHEEL.

The subscribers offer for sale the above WHEELS which are intended for upright or perpendicular shafts and they refer to the annexed certificates to show that this Wheel is superior to some Wheels which have been advertised and certified as surpassing the Great Wheel.

Saugus, March 26 1845

Mr J Whitney—Sir—Your letter of the 24th instant I have received inquiring as to the operation of Valentine's Vertical Centrifugal Water Wheel now in use in the Lide Mills at Saugus. It certainly gives me great pleasure to give credit where I think credit is justly due I exchanged a Norwegian as you know one of the old fashioned tub wheels for one of Valentine's and after four months use of the same I must say that it is one of the best wheels I ever saw

In the same Mills at the same time one of the Howd wheels was put in operation but with all the commendation that the Howd Wheel has and indeed is worthy of, I must give the Valentine Wheel greatly the preference, and for those reasons the cost far less it vents less water is less liable to damage will run more hours and with less head and will do more business

The Valentine Wheel as near as I can calculate, vents three fifths as much water as the Howd

Since the above wheel has been in operation I have seen gates and into good meal forts bushels of corn per hour with one run of stones

Yours with respect

BENJ NEWHALL

I have been engaged as Miller in the Lide Mills stores and for eighteen years and I fully concur in the statements made by Mr Newhall

ISAAC COLLINS.

Portland March 17, 1845

Mr Samuel Waite—Sir We have to say to you, and the trade generally in Maine, that the Valentine Wheel exceeds in power and effect of excellence any previous expectations we were willing to accept of us from your pretty extensive trade we erected in our new Paper Mill The 52 feet diameter wheel, with a fall or head of water which is 24 feet, moves the machinery, etc which are of the largest size with sufficient clear discharge of 250 square inches of water

In short we most heartily recommend the Valentine Water Wheel as possessing or combining more of the requisite qualities of the very best Water Wheel than any other known to us We are therefore interested in the matter to visit our new Paper Mill at Cape Elizabeth from Maine

Respectfully yours

VALENTINE'S WATER WHEEL

[To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

Milo, April 29 1845.

I have lately purchased of Messrs Hinckley & Greene, one of Valentine's Patent Reacting Water Wheels, which has been put in operation by Mr David Mc Intosh an experienced Mill wright of this town for propelling machinery in the Woolen factory The wheel so far exceeds our expectation that I consider it an act of justice to the proprietors to recommend the Wheel to persons building or actories of other Mills as being superior to any other Wheel with which I am acquainted The Wheel is 24 feet in diameter and the head of water 14 feet This drives one set of Woollen Machinery with ease and packer The power is very near three times as much power as the 11 feet Tub Wheel which we have used heretofore The Wheel is not obstructed by back water, and goes with as little steam without the aid of a regulator—persons interested in Water Wheels are invited to call at the Factory and examine for themselves.

J W CUSHING

The undersigned confidentially recommend this Wheel to the owners and operators of Manufactories, Mills, and Machinery as excelling any Wheel in use for power durability simplicity and economy HINCKLEY & EGERY

RUST PROOF IRON,

FOR

ROOFING WINDOW SHUTTERS, &c

THE subscribers beg to call the attention of all those interested in roofing, to their GALVANIZED IRON PLATES, and to the many advantages which they possess over all metals and other substances hitherto used for this purpose, possessing as they do, the strength and lightness of iron without its liability to rust having now been tested several years, both in this country and in Europe; they are also less subject to expansion and contraction from sudden changes of the atmosphere, than common Tin Plate, Iron, Zinc &c, or any other metal now used for roofing, and consequently form a much better and tighter roof, requiring far less frequent repair, whilst the first cost is but little more.

The subscribers would also call the attention of all dealers and workers of metals for the many other purposes to which Iron thus protected can be applied In general terms it is admirably fitted to all articles of iron which it is desirable to protect from the action of the atmosphere And they would especially call the attention of those interested in TELEGRAPHIC LINES to their Galvanized Wire which is now about being introduced for the purpose, and which answers every purpose as a conductor of electricity, costing only about one-half as much as copper and possessing equal durability with that metal

Having lately erected Works in this city for the purpose of galvanizing Nails, Spikes Bolts Wire &c, they will be able to furnish any article which may be desired A supply of Nails manufactured in Europe, constantly on hand from 16 to 32 wire gauge GEO B AOREWOOD & CO

The Sugar-Coated Pills.

A NEW SARSAPARILLA PREPARATION.

IMPURE BLOOD.

ALSEY'S SUGAR COATED MAGNETIC LIFE PILLS The originator of the only true and genuine Sugar coated Pills most respectfully informs the enlightened public, that this new and elegant preparation can be obtained only from advertised agents and the proprietor's establishment No 223 Broadway, N York,—Price 25 cents in a single box, 4 boxes for one dollar

G W LADD Agent for Bangor

Among the numerous medicines which are repugnant on the basis of an ancient name, are those perhaps which have acquired so great celebrity, and extensive use as the one at present under the article—They have gained their high reputation, alone by the real good works. Those who once try them always use them again They are grateful to the stomach,—they improve the functions of digestion and circulation They restore the appetite, create a natural warmth inward, which glows through the whole system, giving it greater vitality and animation The experience of thousands attest to their good effects After using them for a short time the hitherto wretched invalid finds that all disagreeable and unhealthy humors have forsaken his system the digestive organs perform their proper functions, the blood receives its vital purity the oppressive sense of weakness and pain departs, and the body becomes endowed with renewed strength and vigor—while the mind resumes its original vivacity and elasticity Such are the results produced by Halsey's Sugar coated Pills the mildest, yet most effectual preparation of the class in use.

In BILIOUS complaints, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all disorders of the stomach they produce the most happy results For Sores, Salt Rheum Fever Tetters, Eruptions of the Skin, Scrofulous complaints and many other like diseases rising from IMPURE BLOOD they have become highly celebrated Hundreds of certificates have been received from individuals who after having taken them for a few weeks, according to the directions found much success in the cure, and requested of the most afflicting cases of scrofulous affections They are Good Blows for Bad

Bottles of the boasted Sarsaparilla contain less of the true virtues of that valuable plant and are less effectual than a single box of these extraordinary Pills In Colds Coughs, Influenza, Sore Throat Headache Giddiness &c, they are recommended with entire confidence relief in these cases is quick and permanent For Fever and Ague, Fevers Asthma, Piles Loss of Appetite Dropsy, Jaundice Worms, Leucorrhœa General Debility, and many of the various other diseases to which the human system is liable they have proved an infallible remedy The action on the bowels is of the mildest character, one dose never causing griping or unpleasantness Let them be searching and effectual as they are mild, they give an adequate idea of the great and good virtues these pills pro uce and the superiority over every other remedy of a similar class A trial only will convince the wide difference The unhappy invalid after having tested but a single box of them will with joy for the unexampled change wrought in his health bear testimony to their uncommon virtues

N B The coating of sugar adds nothing to the great virtues of the Magnetic Life Pills it serves in common powers in preserving health, on which their use its stand pre-eminent and outstanding the day and the original sugar coated pills

Full and explicit directions for the use of these valuable pills accompany each box

Temperance Meeting this Evening—Lecture by Dr. Paige.

The two fine large regular series of Citizens Temperance Meetings will be held at the Masonic Hall evening. A lecture will be delivered by Dr Paige of Boston, and it is hoped that a new impetus may be given to the cause. Every friend of temperance will feel an interest in the cause. Here perhaps is an opportunity for the exertion and advocacy of the various ways in which good cause may be carried. It is hoped every friend will attend the meetings for the purpose of making arrangements to form societies, that they may be organized, and that the meetings may be kept up. We hope that all who have signed the pledge will keep their pledges sacred, and not only that but that they will endeavor to induce others to sign the pledge. Pledges are not to be considered as binding in themselves but as an expression on which the meeting itself will be based.

When will the Mexican War End?

The New England mind is not the only one in the United States that is fighting the battles of suffering people. Beautiful Plants Perpetually in Bloom.

On a recent visit to Mr White's Mount Hope Green House we noticed a gay and beautiful border of potted plants in full flower. They are known by the popular name of China Primroses—the color of some red and others white. They are just the things for a sitting room ornament this cold weather. Mr White has a fine lot of plants in training for the spring when he will have a magnificent display of flowers.

The concert of the Farrington Family at Market Hall on Thursday evening was highly satisfactory to them and their numerous friends. The large Hall was crowded, the singing was excellent, and the company well pleased. It is difficult getting too much of a good thing and it has been suggested that it will be agreeable to the public to have this concert repeated.

A violent snow storm commenced here about 10 o'clock last evening, continuing with increased severity as we go to press, at 7 o'clock this morning. From 20 to 24 inches of snow have fallen.

Rail Road Matters.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

PORTLAND, Jan 27th, 1847.

Those of your readers who have taken any interest in the success of the Portland and Montreal Railway, may repollect a communication [illegible], under date of August 8 1845, published in the Whig in which some account was given of the mission of Messrs Moffatt and others of Montreal, to this city in reference to that project. The particular object my communication to you at that time, was to give the people of the East some idea of the views entertained by intelligent men at Montreal of a [illegible] to the people of Maine generally and more especially to the citizens of Bangor. The commercial advantages that Bangor would directly receive by the completion of that Railway, have been abundantly demonstrated by the past years in Western productions [illegible] years.

The completion of the Western and Southern [illegible] for the last five years has annually [illegible] more than

35,000 bbls Flour
10,000 " Pork
6,000 each lots of Corn,

besides the quantities of Lard, Cheese, Potatoes and all kinds and various other articles, [illegible] that

It was stated in 1845, by Messrs Moffatt and [illegible] two of the first merchants of Canada, that the completion of the St Lawrence and the Montreal and Portland Railway [illegible] would be brought from Cleaveland to Portland for 62½ cents per barrel and to Bangor for 75 cents

The past season, of bringing it through the Erie Canal to New York or Boston has been [illegible] at $2,00 a barrel, and frequently $3,00 has been paid for bringing it from Buffalo to New York. It was actually asserted that $1,00 on every barrel Flour and on every barrel of pork, and 10 cts on every bushel of corn, have been paid the past year as extra duties on the entire amount consumed in Maine. If it was so that much of it has been water borne from the South and not subjected to this extra tax it is only necessary to reply by saying, that the great capacity for production of the West, enables the [illegible] raise corn and wheat at prices far below [illegible] slave States, so that the proposed communication with the West, will enable us to get our supplies for Maine below the cost of importing from the South.

Maine has paid this year then

$1,00 on 3,0,000 bbls flour,	$30,000
1,00 " 40,000 " pork,	40,000
10 " 600,000 bushels corn,	60,000
	$430,000

the sum of 430,000 extra duties which might have been saved by the completion of the Montreal & Portland Railway

Bangor imports annually from 45,000 to 50,000 bbls flour from 7,000 to 10,000 bbls pork, and 100,000 bushels of corn, paying this year at least $70,000 extra tax to the forwarders between Lake Erie and Maine.

I deem it design to enlarge on topics of this sort, but present a single fact to the attention of my fellow citizens

My sole object is to present these facts to view, now in mind of the present movement in favor of a Rail Road matters in Maine.

The Rail Road from Montreal to Portland is [illegible] and its success is no longer a matter of doubt. Forty five miles in Canada, and 33 miles in Maine are in process of construction, and a further section of each road is expected to be put under contract soon. Twenty miles of each road are already secured by the pledges of subscriptions, varying one third of the cost to be provided for Twenty miles of the A & St L R R, [illegible] the general direction of Water and Bangor, on the most favorable route to Rivers to your city From the point of the proposed improvement, to Waterville, the distance is 48 miles easy route is ascertained exist, a charter has been procured and the stock to such an amount, after as to ensure the completion of the road early. Again, engineers are also in process to secure a Railway through Brunswick to Augusta and the plans are proposed, procuring a charter for its access to Waterville from Augusta.

One hundred miles of Rail Roads from Portland to Waterville are now considered as secured. The [illegible] population along the two proposed routes will access to the completion of one hundred miles in a very short period.

Between Bangor and Waterville unfortunately [illegible] there is no chance of getting up any opposition on the subject of the line of the Rail Road. If any move such a state of things should occur your people who want a Rail Road, [illegible] under the auspices [illegible] Portland and Montreal Rail Road, are too slow of action, and too ill prepared to Rail Road matters, to bestir themselves much without some such stimulant as is now giving the Kennebec towns.

One thing however, you may rest assured, capitalists like such a route as that from Waterville to Bangor—one that is free from all danger from unexpected lines, or water transports tion, or from any distraction of opinion among the [illegible]

The question has been often put to me, for many months past, Why do not the people of Bangor take more interest in the question of the Rail Road to that city My answer has uniformly been, The time has not come for them to move in the matter. Such has always been my own impression. The people of Bangor are mainly anxious for a Rail Road to Portland as a means of connecting themselves during the winter months, with the rest of the route, without, at present, much reference to its commercial or business advantages. Heavy merchandise will never, to any great extent be transported over a Rail Road from Bangor to Portland or Boston, such are the facilities for conveyance by water. It is otherwise with passengers.—At all seasons of the year a large proportion of the travel between Bangor and Portland route, take the Rail Road in preference to the steam boat, and the whole travelling public omits in named the late. And I am of the opinion that notwithstanding the facilities of water conveyance from all the large towns in Maine, that a line of Railway from Bangor to Portland running as far as possible in the interior, touching those portions of the State where [illegible] new blessings and new powers and open the widest means of universal prosperity and improvements," would be a good paying Road with the present business of Maine. If so, there is no limit that can be named for the value of its stock in a few years, with the agency now at work toward the development of the great resources of the State—to say nothing of its connection with the West, by the A & St L R R

The greatest evil that ever befel Maine was the introduction of the principle of excluding foreign capital upon our Statute Book. Since the change of that policy, in 1844, a new impulse has reached all the more thickly populated portions of the State, and the general wealth of the people of the East some dozen of the towns entertained by intelligent men at Montreal of [illegible] power of Maine is calling rapidly into use the surplus capital of New England. The water power of Massachusetts is fully occupied and the eyes of her capitalists are now on Maine. Introduce Rail Roads and there is no limit to our growth.

Upon favorable routes will that is now required to secure Rail Road [illegible] a proper appreciation of them by the people. Capitalists will not embark in them till the good will and efficient aid of the people on the line is secured. This being effected the labor is soon taken off the hands of those less able to bear the burden.

On the route from Waterville to Lewiston, over $400,000 has been subscribed. The organization is to be organized at once and the ground will be broken as soon as the spring opens. Toward this sum Waterville has taken $90,000, Fairfield $30,000, Readfield $25,000, Winthrop $20,000, Lewiston $50,000, Portland $100,000, the balance is made up at Gorham, Wales, Monmouth, Leeds, Wayne, Belgrade and the towns in Somerset and Franklin County.

If Bangor would now move for a Rail Road to Waterville, the people of Belfast would aid it, with a view to connect with it, at Burnham, or at some favorable point nearer.

The distance from Bangor to Waterville is usually called 47 miles and may probably be 50 miles by a Rail Road. Col Fox pronounced this route to be the finest route he had seen in New England, for a Rail Road. It will not cost over $17,000 a mile, including the motive power, to build as good a Road as the Eastern Rail Road, or $850,000 or more when done.

As soon as $500,000 are raised along the line of the Road the balance of the stock will be taken by the friends of the Rail Road, between Waterville and Boston

Bangor could easily take	$250,000
Hampden,	50,000
Orono and others above,	30,000
Brewer and towns east,	30,000
Hermon, Stetson, and towns above,	25,000
Carmel,	15,000
Newport,	25,000
Plymouth,	10,000
Dixmont vicinity,	10,000
Detroit,	10,000
Pittsfield and towns above,	25,000
Burnham,	10,000
Unity and vicinity,	25,000
Clinton and Sebastocook,	10,000
Winslow,	10,000
	$530,000

This sum subscribed would secure your Road to Waterville within two years.

It may be premature to propose the question of the Rail Road now. My impression is, that you cannot much longer keep it back. A journey from here to Bangor in the winter, requires about the same time and is far more fatiguing than one from here to Washington. People will not lay in a land where Railways are not found and the Eastern portion of Maine cannot share its present prosperity without their extension to Bangor. From thence East, at an early day the Railway shall extend to the lower British Provinces, and thus the route become the great avenue of travel between the upper and lower British Provinces, as well as the great thoroughfare for the travel and business of the State.

P

At the present prices of flour and grain at Montreal, and in the Western States, flour ought not to sell higher than $5,00 per bbl at Portland or Bangor, if sufficient Railway communications were opened. Witness the arrival of the last steamer, [illegible] has sold in New York at $8,10 per bbl. and is held even above the price. The only channel of trade now open to the West is the line of Railway from Albany to Buffalo.

Indian Battle.

A letter from a gentleman at Council Bluffs dated the 17 h of December, to his correspondent at St Louis states that on the previous day a band of the Sioux, in the neighborhood of the Bluffs, had a battle ensued between them, and that the Sioux killed sixty of the Omahas before the conflict terminated.

The following particulars we find in a letter to the St Louis Republican

It was a cold-blooded butchery of women and children, in the absence of all the warriors of the village. On the night of the 12 h and 13 h, the letter states, a war party of Yankton Sioux had a defeated and destroyed fourteen of the Omaha tribe of Indians located at the place at Wood's Bluffs situated about 60 miles from this place—Bellevue. The Sioux and warriors of the Omahas had left the camp on a hunt, and the Sioux soon after they reached the camp discovered [illegible] they only had women and children to contend with. The slaughter was terrible—seventy three were killed and nine seven mortally wounded. Two men made their escape—one of them named Joseph Laffe he a trader in the employ of Mr Peter A Sharpy and at the time in charge of a stock of goods.

He arrived on the scene of blood [illegible] and assisted at Bellevue with both feet frozen. Mr Sarpy and Maj Miller, the present agent, despatched a party of men to ascertain the facts, and they confirmed, on their return, the report of Lafleche. They also reported that five of the Sioux Indians had been killed, no doubt stabbed by the Omahaquawa. Going twenty miles further than the ground of the massacre they found the place where the goods of the trader had been divided among the robbers.

It seems, adds the letter, that fate is against the Omaha Indians. Four or five days before that event took place, one camp, lodging at Calhoun's old trading house, was attacked by a war party of Sioux, commanded by the chief Blue Cloud, and four of the men wounded, and one woman killed.

We copy the following paragraph from a London paper of December 8—the first to show how men are tempted in the ranks of war—the second as an illustration of the manner in which pert romance often falls short of prose.

We understand that [illegible] have been received by Capt [illegible] commanding the Fencible Regiments [illegible] for service in New Zealand a veteran regiment [illegible] the present time. The following are the inducements held out [illegible]

None [illegible] of good character, and under forty nine years of age, to be admitted into the force, and a preference given to men who are employed or [illegible] as farm servants, and can be well recommended by those who have lately employed them.—Scotsman

He had been able, [illegible] a guinea's mounting on one finger [illegible] day, which had been long since expended to support his wife and children, and as he was completely crippled and had no means of earning a subsistence he was compelled to solicit public charity to save himself and family from starvation.

Biography of Female Printers.

Among the letters received by the Committee of Arrangements of the Printers Festival in Rochester, was one from Josiah Snow, the Biography of distinguished Printers of the softer sex. We give a portion of his letter —

Jane Franklin. The first newspaper printed in Rhode Island, was at Newport, in 1732. James Franklin, a brother to the Doctor, was publisher. He died soon after, and his widow continued the paper [illegible] years. She was printer to the colony, supplied it [illegible] to the public dress, published pamphlets, &c. Anne Timothee the widow of the [illegible] Elizabeth, just mentioned, after the Revolutionary war ceased, revived the Gazette which had been established by the elder Timothee. It had been discontinued, while the British troops were in possession of Charleston. She was appointed printer to the State at [illegible] the Place [illegible].

Mary Crouch was the widow of Charles Crouch and born in Rhode Island. Her husband established a paper [illegible] the Stamp act in Charleston S C. Mrs Crouch continued the paper [illegible] when [illegible] to Salem, Mass, and took her paper [illegible] with her. She published a paper in Salem for some years, and returned to Newport where [illegible] a paper sufficient for the [illegible] during her life.

Penelope Russell succeeded her husband in printing the "Censor" at Boston in 1771. She not only set type, but while her case, invoked her muse and put up type on tragical events in an interesting manner, without any written copy.

The Happy Home.

BY WM G HOWARD.

I love the quiet, sacred calm,
That fills the pure breast,
It is an [illegible] of the peace,
Which dwells amongst the blest.
The stern conflicting cares of life,
Its [illegible] fiercest [illegible],
May waste the fragile frame to dust,
[illegible] the spirit still is free.

I love, when dusky night has flung
Its [illegible] o'er the earth,
And that lone hour [illegible] returns,
To which gives to dreams their birth,
To see the holy [illegible] of God
Bowed at the [illegible] of prayer,
His wife and [illegible] babes around,
To meet the Savior there.

And when the morning's rosy light
Breaks o'er the east in hills,
A grateful [illegible] for life and health,
Each gentle [illegible] fills,
I love to see this happy group,
Again devotedly met,
Seeking at [illegible] to give
The [illegible] thanks [illegible].

Oh! if there be a paradise
Beneath the [illegible],
'Tis in this [illegible] happy home,
Of pure, [illegible] love,
The storms that wreck this wintry world
May rave and roar around,
They cannot blight the [illegible] that blooms
With [illegible] and [illegible].

Biography of Female Printers.

Among the letters received by the Committee of Arrangements of the Printers Festival in Rochester, was one from Josiah Snow, the Biography of distinguished Printers of the softer sex. We give a portion of his letter —

Jane Franklin. The first newspaper printed in Rhode Island, was at Newport, in 1732. James Franklin, a brother to the Doctor, was publisher. He died soon after, and his widow continued the paper [illegible] years. She was printer to the colony, supplied it [illegible] to the public dress, published pamphlets, &c. The Newport Mercury, which is now regularly issued, [illegible] of this printing office in 1756 and is the oldest paper in the country. In 1745, Mr Franklin petitioned for the appointment as editor of the town, containing 340 folio pages. She was appointed to the office by his two daughters, [illegible] pension, the pensioner to [illegible] liberty to find employment for himself, if he can do so, at a higher rate of wages provided he does not reside more than five miles from head quarters, and attends regularly to drill when required. None [illegible] of good character, and under forty nine years of age, to be admitted into the force, and a preference given to men who are employed or [illegible] as farm servants, and can be well recommended by those who have lately employed them.—Scotsman

"Wassup street—William Cotton, dressed in the [illegible] uniform of the 22d regiment, was placed at the bar before Mr Bingham, on the charge of [illegible] drunkenness.

"Police constable Ball, No 365, said he saw the prisoner standing in a supplicating attitude in Shoreditch with his wife and child, all of whom presented the most deplorable appearance. The prisoner had one of the sleeves of his coat ripped up so as to expose his naked arm, which bore the [illegible] marks of several wounds, and the [illegible] he received in the commission of some [illegible] by the Sindhians, who bestowed also a [illegible] on witness felt the cuts to have been made [illegible] bayonet.

"In answer to the magistrate's questions, the prisoner, who wore a medal at his breast, and he [illegible] disabled arm, exhibited a severe sabre cut down one of his cheeks, and he had received a [illegible] Sir Charles Napier through the whole of the Scinde campaign, and was present at the battles of Meanee and Hyderabad, in which he received several gunshot wounds, which disabled him from service, and he was consequently discharged. He had made application for a pension on account of his wounds, but hitherto without success. He had been able, [illegible] a guinea's mounting on one finger [illegible] day, which had been long since expended to support his wife and children, and as he was completely crippled and had no means of earning a subsistence he was compelled to solicit public charity to save himself and family from starvation.

Mrs Sarah Goddard, was also a printer in Newport in 1776. She was born in Rhode Island, and widow of Giles Goddard, a printer, of New London. She received a good education and was well acquainted with many branches of literature. She had been engaged as a bookseller, for two years, when John Carter became associated with her, under the firm of Sarah Goddard & Co.

Mrs Margaret Draper, was the widow of Richard Draper. She published the Massachusetts Gazette and Boston News Letter, after the death of [illegible]. It was the first paper established in North America. All the newspapers excepting those ordered to be published when Boston was besieged by the English. She left Boston with the British army and went to England, where after peace was settled upon her by the government, for life.

Mrs Cornelia Bradford, was the widow of Andrew Bradford, who died in Philadelphia, in 1742. She continued the printing business for a number of years, and retired with a sufficiency of the world's [illegible].

In the same city, Mrs Jane Aitkin, a [illegible] of her father, in 1802, continued the business. Her reputation was high, from the productions which issued from her press. She was also noted for her correctness in proof reading.

Mrs Zenger, the widow of John P Zenger, who published the second newspaper established in New York, carried on the business for [illegible] after his death. She was a modest and moderate woman, the exact reverse of her husband who managed to have as many libel suits on hand, as a certain literary character of our time! The consequence was, Zenger got into [illegible] with the prisons or giving public utterance to his libelous views. Mrs Zenger conducted the New York Weekly Journal with [illegible]. For three years until 1748.

Mrs Mary Holt, widow of John Holt, and publisher of the "New York Journal," in 1773, was appointed Printer to this State. The paper did powerful service during the Revolution.

Anne Katharine Greene was born in Holland. In 1767 she succeeded her husband in publishing the Maryland Gazette, the first paper printed in that State. She executed the Colony printing, and continued the business to her death in 1775.

Mrs Hasselbeten. The first printer in Baltimore, was Nicholas Hasselbotch. He was succeeded by his widow, who done up business with neatness. In 1773, a Mason or any had a Bible in his hand, explaining it to a party of [illegible]. He pronounced the "the Grand [illegible] he took the word of God." What said the Bible? Ye [illegible] the Most part of the work." The Lodge taking the literal import of the words, answered and gratified [illegible] believed to be a great [illegible] gods. Baltimore [illegible] until, when I see Dutch [illegible] from. The great spirit [illegible] the Dutch man to help him.

Mrs Mary Katharine Goddard, was [illegible] to Wm Goddard of Rhode Island, who established the Maryland Journal. Coming from a State where free [illegible] was all wed, he was apt to write rather harshly. He was several times mobbed, and had to finally quit the state and return to Providence. His sister Mary conducted the paper for eight years, took [illegible] work and acted as post master until 1784. She was upset in her writings, and nothing but her sex saved her from frequent [illegible].

Mrs Hannah Boyle, published a paper at Williamsburg, Va., in 1774. It favored the Crown and lived but a short time.

Clementina Bird, succeeded her husband in the Virginia Gazette in 1773. T W Jefferson was a contributor. She died in 1778.
